Art from the Heart — Handcrafted Paintings by Lakshmi Sridhar

Sub-headline:

Original paintings, fine art prints, and hands-on training — created with love in Ireland, inspired by a lifetime of colour, culture, and quiet observation.

Hero body copy:

Welcome to my little corner of the internet. I'm Lakshmi — an artist based in Ireland, painting stories that move between memory and imagination. Every piece you see here started as a blank canvas and a feeling I couldn't quite put into words any other way.

Whether you're here to bring home an original painting, order a print for your space, or learn to paint alongside me, I'm so glad you found your way here.

2. ABOUT US (About the Artist)

Page headline:

The Story Behind the Brush

Body copy:

I've always believed that a painting is really just a conversation — between the artist, the canvas, and whoever eventually stands in front of it. My own conversation with colour began [as a child in India / when I first picked up a brush — insert real origin story], and it's continued through every home, every city, and every season of life since.

Today, I paint from my studio in Ireland, drawing inspiration from [nature, memory, Indian heritage, everyday life — tailor to Lakshmi's real themes]. My work moves between [medium(s) — e.g., acrylics, watercolours, mixed media], and each piece is built slowly, layer by layer, the same way a good story is told.

Over the past [X years], I've had the privilege of [exhibiting my work / selling to collectors across Ireland and India / teaching hundreds of students — adjust to real milestones]. But what I love most is what happens after a painting leaves my studio — the way it settles into someone's home and becomes part of their own story too.

When I'm not painting, you'll usually find me [planning my next training session / experimenting with a new technique / pottering in the garden for inspiration].

Thank you for taking the time to get to know me a little. I hope my work brings as much warmth into your space as it brought me while I made it.

— Lakshmi

SITE-WIDE FUNCTIONAL NOTES (for developer/handoff)

- 1 "Check Next Training Schedule" button — appears on Home and Courses Running pages (and optionally as a persistent header/footer button). Links directly to Lakshmi's WhatsApp chat (click-to-chat link, e.g., `https://wa.me/[number]`), not a form.
- 1 Per-painting social actions — on every painting/print listing (Recent Projects, Purchase > Originals, Purchase > Prints), include three icons:
 - Share — share the specific painting's page link via social platforms.
 - Follow — links out to Lakshmi's Instagram (@lakshmi.sridharj) and/or Facebook.
 - Subscribe — on click, either opens WhatsApp directly (for quick updates) or routes to a simple login/register page where visitors sign up with name + email/phone to receive updates on new paintings and print releases. Recommend deciding one consistent behaviour site-wide (WhatsApp-only is simpler to build and matches the "personal artist" tone; a login/register page suits a longer-term mailing list).
- 1 Navigation structure:
 - Home
 - About Us
 - Recent Projects
 - Courses Running
 - Purchase (dropdown: Originals | Prints)
 - Contact Us
- 1 Tone guidelines for future content: warm, personal, first-person ("I"), unhurried — avoid corporate/sales-heavy language. Favour storytelling over hard-sell CTAs, consistent with the reference style (meganseiter.com).

Document prepared for website content handoff — all bracketed fields should be reviewed and personalised with Lakshmi before publishing.
